

Joy Pittman

intentionally strategic.

Joy Pittman is a Human Resource Development Consultant, Business Strategist, Public Speaker, Educator, Author and Sprinkler of Black Girl Magic. In 2017, Joy decided to leverage her 10 plus years of Human Resources management experience to help individuals become better leaders, empowering them and to build and develop better teams. That decision gave birth to JVP Legacy LLC, a boutique consulting firm that provides culturally competent leadership and team development coaching, consulting and training with a special focus on supporting new and emerging leaders of diverse backgrounds.

Additionally, that decision set the framework for Think with Joy and When Faith Meets Strategy. Through these ventures we provide support to not for profit, faith-based and start-up organizations, helping them maximize and leverage the value of their people through training, process alignment and related strategy development. Joy currently holds a Master's degree in Human Resources Management, a Bachelor's in Economics, SPHR and SHRM-SCP certifications and is pursuing her JD at Rutgers Law School in Newark, NJ.

SPEAKING TOPICS

THE POWER OF PEOPLE

Understanding how to effectively utilize your most powerful resource PEOPLE. Designed for those who serve in leadership and managerial capacities who need to hone their interpersonal skills.

POWER AND PRIVILEGE RE-DEFINED

Empowering members of marginalized communities to identify and maximize the spaces of privilege that exist apart from "whiteness and wealth." Designed for persons looking understand the advantage to being "disadvantaged".

LEVEL UP

Identifying personal sustainability plans that aid in professional and personal growth. Designed for diverse audiences who desire to set goals and achieve them.

STRATEGIC WOMEN WIN

Leveraging the power of womanhood to conquer unfavorable environments. Designed for women visionaries, entrepreneurs and leaders (especially those working in male dominated industries or environments).

WHEN FAITH MEETS STRATEGY

Implementing business strategy development and necessity from a biblical perspective. Designed for faith-based organizations and ministry teams.

PRICING

- 60 minute workshop or presentation - $900
- Half Day Seminar (up to three hours) - $2700
- Keynote Address - $3750
- Full Day Seminar (up to 6 hours) - $5000

*Rates do not include transportation and accommodations

Joy brings together visionaries seeking to master their craft in a technologically driven and globally-competitive society. She offers space for community leaders to gather across areas of engagement—education, ministry, business, and the non-profit sector—to share best practices and challenges while learning from one of our community's leading strategist. Joy Pittman's years of experience and expertise provides community builders with solutions and insights to design with imagination and build with intention.

R. Moore

For more detailed information on Joy's presentation topics on how to book her for your next event please contact us at:

917.391.6421

joy@joypittman.com

www.joypittman.com

@joypittman